1. [redacted] Received a call from Mrs. Butler, in the office of Representative Hastings Keith (R., Mass.), concerning the disappearance of two youths who went on a fishing trip out of Miami. The boat apparently was wrecked and the boys disappeared. The story concerning this is quite confused, however, the father of one youth, [redacted] was told by someone that the boat which these boys hired was obtained through one [redacted] who was employed by or associated with CIA. Mr. [redacted] is in Washington attempting to determine the exact circumstances regarding this trip and the disappearance of his son and his companion, [redacted]

Mrs. Butler asked if an Agency representative could be present at a meeting between [redacted] and a representative from the Coast Guard in the Congressman's office today. I told Mrs. Butler I would discuss the case with our people but suggested State Department was the proper agency to discuss the whereabouts of American citizens outside the U.S. She said she understood and agreed with my suggestion and said she would call State. TFW indicates that the Agency was in no way involved in this situation, although we did have contact with [redacted] on an inconsequential and unrelated matter.
